W. T. Lucas (U.F.A. Camrose) asked witness if he would suggest a price war with Argentine and Australia. That would not be necessary, the witness thought, because Canada enjoyed an advantage in the big consuming markets. Only a little price shading would have been necessary. Mr. Richardson said his information was that if farmers got 40 cents it would pay them for their labor and yield a small profit. That would mean a market price of about 55 cents.

The prime minister expressed the view details could only be explained adequately by Mr. McFarland as a member of the vast staff he did, and for that reason the prime minister did not think it fair to go into details while Mr. McFarland is in bed sick.

He said charges had been made in the press against Mr. McFarland and information asked for could not be given.

that would waste be selling for in your judgment?" "Once our carry-over had been cleaned up there would be no worry about price," he said. "I suppose I can give you an answer my question."

Mr. Richardson: "I can't answer your question because the market has grown up over a number of years. The witnesses and chairman then asked him to go back to the market over during the past 10 years and price fluctuations on the Winnipeg market. He said that in July, 1920, he was in the market.

UP TO DOLLAR

In that month, Mr. Bennett recalled, the price went up to more than a dollar. He said that in the same time in one week, Mr. Richardson at 70 cents could have given them "Argentina a bad time," he declared.

CAN'T AFFORD IT

At the request of Hon. Charles Stewart (Lib., Edmonton) the witnesses read some letters from the Winnipeg market. One of them said that so long as the Canadian price was 70 cents, it was not a problem for Mr. Bennett's millers "not to afford to buy it because of the competition from the other countries." The witnesses then asked him to name the countries which used cheap grades.

"In the course," Mr. Bennett injected, "if we sell Manitoba wheat as cheap as the low grades used in the United States, we would be selling to countries which subsidize the pro-

When the price was driven up by the war, he sold the wheat at a profit, then sold, and he blamed Mr. McFarland. If the wheat had been sold at the same price, he said, there would be no trouble now.

"Do you think the wheat surplus would be sold at the same price as the surplus bushel?" Mr. Bennett asked.

"I don't say that," the witness answered, "but if wheat had been sold then at 70 cents we could have disposed of a tremendous lot of it."

Mr. Richardson said his information was that if farmers got 40 cents for wheat, they would not labor and yield a small profit. That would mean a market price for wheat of 30 cents.

The British millers would have to pay 30 cents for wheat.

EXCHANGE OBSTACLE

Mr. Richardson said countries in Europe could not buy Canadian wheat because of the Canadian dollar cost them too much.

The exchange situation was one of the obstacles to the wheat surplus being sold out of the exchange, he said. The exchange could not fix the number of pesos in the dollar, he said, and the dollar was rising up or down the exchange. They could pay their bill in dollars, but at first could not pay more with them.

"Do you suggest we reduce the number of our dollars?" Mr. Bennett asked.

"I have not said that point up to me."

Mr. Bennett: "Then you want the committee to feel that 85 cents is a reasonable price for the farmers?"

KEES HIGHEST PRICE

Mr. Richardson: "No sir. I want the farmer to get the highest price possible."

Mr. Bennett: "But you said the government should set a minimum price and make it up to the farmer in some way if the market fell below that level. How are you sug-

The witness agreed with Cal Rialton the government should set a price as high as possible to insure a surplus each year and taken the farmers' word.

"The very presence of a large carry-over makes buyers apprehensive," Mr. Richardson said.

"They are waiting for a fire sale," interjected Mr. Bennett.

There would have been no surplus had it not been for the government, he said. "The surplus had not been allowed to accumulate," replied Cal Rialton.

FACE-FALLING MYSTIC RITES SEEN IN INDIA

There is a hill here 13 miles around. These 40 men start at the top of the hill and go down the hill. They get up, put their feet where their face was before, and go again. Then again and again and again. It goes on for six hours a day after which they rest, eat, have a bath or take in the movie. Next day they start all over again. After a few months they've gone around the hill, gained merit, and entered the bottom rung of a samskaram.

Their next job is to carry a stone around. They do this by falling on their faces for 13 miles and after each fall reaching forward and putting the stone as far ahead as they can. Then they start that clean again. It goes on for six hours a day.

A LONG JOB

I watched two men do the stunt with 108 stones. It takes these men an average of 3½ years to get around the hill. They go on their faces day after day; month after month, in rainfall and burning sunlight, all to gain a better life in the world to come. These stone men never stop for food or recreation. They do rest occasionally and at these times group pilgrims bring them food and water. Often, too, they lie over their sides and talk to visitors.

I noticed today that of the two stone men, falling and climbing around the mountain, one had an enormous and entire smile on his face. He was smiling every time he hit the dirt. The other had a grim, gloomy expression. He said I asked him how come.

PRO AND AMATEUR

There is a professional and the other a strict amateur. He had been hired by some pilgrim to take four days and fall his way around the hill. In so doing he got 400 and the pilgrim gave him 200 and honor and glory.

One body had protected itself with thick callouses on the knees, chest and chin where he fell. The other, who had no calluses, was starting all over again. He had to give that up though; the Bible couldn't stand it.

FALLS FOR 20 YEARS

Most famed of the 40 face-fallers is Krishna Ram, 35 years old, who has spent the past 20 years of his life falling around the hill, but is just now on vacation pending the start of his most arduous stunt.

I found this fellow sound when he was the abbot of a nunnery and had trouble waking him. When he did start, amiable and invited me to sit beside him and his private face while he lit a couple of pipes one for himself and one for me. He told the story of his fall.

He was Benares born, but the routine punishments of the nunnery brought him to the Ganges in the hope of finding death. He had been walking the 54 miles to this place pulling a coffin on his back.

COFFIN IN OFFING

First class holy men in India generally have their coffin in the offing. It is generally a small one in which they carry a few provisions and a pet cat or dog. When they die it is the duty of the priest to pull or carry this coffin to the top of the sacred river, the Ganges, Jumna or Brahmaputra, and toss it in, body and all.

This chap fell around the mountain with one stone, and then eight stones and twice with 108 (corresponding to the 108 names of the Hindu deity).

Now, when he has rested up a bit, this chap is going to push his stone coffin and carry his portable bed around the hill with him. Somehow he's going to work out a scheme whereby he falls smack on his forehead instead of his chin. He figures he can do the trick in 11,873 falls.

"And what does all this gain for you?" I asked. "At least it gives me a chance to see the world and its wonders," he said with a smile. "I have seen the world and its wonders, and I have seen the world and its wonders."

INDIA'S FOLKLORE

In case you wonder why the boys choose this hill to fall around, the point out that in the olden days, when the hills were covered with a forest of trees, the hills were covered with a forest of trees, the hills were covered with a forest of trees.

Celebrates Crack-Up At Party

NEW YORK, June 24.—George and Alfred Monteverde, crack-tired young Portuguese noblemen, sat around for a new place today for another go at the Atlantic after their narrow escape from death in an unlucky attempt Sunday to take off for Rome. They took off late Saturday with Alfred, 25, at the controls, and nearly 100 gallons of fuel aboard. The ship raked sluggishly down the 4,000-foot runway, bounced into the air a couple of times, dragged a wing, and then crashed nose-on into a sandpile at the far side of the airport. Their nerve and confidence unshaken, George and Alfred repaired with friends to a night-club where they celebrated their escape.

Stresses Valera Declaration of Intention

Patience-Worn Britain May Oust Free State

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, June 24.—A spokesman for the Congress party deputies in the Dail Eireann, expressed fear Sunday the British Commonwealth of Nations would oust the Irish Free State from the Empire if President Eamon de Valera fails to come to terms with Britain soon.

The opposition group led by former President William T. Cosgrave, feared de Valera's move toward re-signing of negotiations with Britain a "sham political maneuver," and predicted he would not carry them through.

PATIENCE STRAINED

Conversations have had with representatives of several Dominions lead us to feel their patience is wearing an end, and unless de Valera quickens his feet, they will find themselves in the street, politically and commercially, the spokesman said.

Cosgrave and his deputy leader, Frank MacDermott, said they would push their efforts to get the president to make known his real intentions.

All we want is a straight answer to a straight question: Is de Valera going to declare a republic? MacDermott said in any case, pending the results of his overtures to Britain for the reopening of negotiations, he would remain in the commercial peace.

Even interspersed his speech with references to Marxist doctrine, he declared, "We are a Fascist and Provincial, Evans intimated.

The men on the 'on in Ottawa march would not be led by Communist leaders if they did not have legitimate grievances," Evans said.

Prime Minister Bennett had been "bombarded and crushed" in referring the strike strikers' demands, Evans shouted as he closed his speech.

PREDICTS OVER 20,000

Between 20,000 and 30,000 unemployed camp men and other workers would trek to Ottawa in the near future, Evans predicted. He asked employed and unemployed alike to join a program of public works of the unemployed, particularly the hope of work for youth in the future.

REGINA, June 24.—Relief camp strikers in Regina remained quiet over the week-end, but planned a parade and mass meeting for this afternoon, when their cause would be outlined. A mimeographed leaflet, headed "United Strikers' list of Premier Bennett's refusal to grant their demands.

Over the week-end strikers' ranks were quiet. The men were entertained with sports, band concerts and theatre shows.

Daring Aerialist Performs In Big Top Without Net

BETHIA MATLOOK AND JOE.

Heading the group of art acrobats with the great Al G. Barnes Wild Animal Circus, coming to Edmonton on Wednesday, June 26, is Miss Bethia Matlook, one of the most daring and intrepid performers to ever appear with any circus.

Twice daily this dainty little star tempts fate as she performs at dizzy heights in the big top. Miss Matlook comes from an old family of circus performers, and although still in her teens she sets a bar for the many older acrobats to compete with.

Her exploits in mid-air are daring, and through it all she seems the use of a safety net, so sure is she of her ability. The internationally famous Bennett Family, The Walters Troupe, The Dazzling Brothers, The Escalante Family, and the English favorites, the Ringling Bros. and the Barnum & Bailey, are all featured in the show.

An immense son and The Frenz of Rio Grande will be seen as a prelude to the circus and performances will start at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. with the doors opening an hour earlier.

Honeymooning Salmon To Cost U.S.A. $3,200,000

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Money was found from the United States $3,700,000,000 public works fund to take care of honeymooning salmon. Writing in "back to work," on a $300,000,000 allotment to the Bonneville dam on the Columbia river, Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes said:

"An interesting feature of this dam will be the construction of giant fishways, for which the sum of $3,200,000 has been provided, as an aid to the salmon to scale the 54-foot dam when they feel the urge to go to the upper stretches of the river on their homeward run."

SHILLALEIGHS, FISTS FLY IN IRISH SCRAP

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, June 24.—Cohorts of the Irish Republican army and the Irish citizen army clashed in a melee last night, from which several casualties were reported, after a day of constantly mounting tension. The free-state, in which clubs and fists were wielded, came as a surprise to the Irish Republic, which the challenge of Sean MacBride came to terms with a secret council, who asserted:

"Republicans felt the goals of the north and south, but the Republican movement is on a rising tide gathering momentum."

MacBride came from being to take part in the annual Irish Republican Army observance in Bod-einstein, where he made a fervent plea for independence in an oration at the grave of Wolfe Tone, a hero of the 18th century.

"I fear that if I dared to do anything that could be construed by Mr. Bennett as supporting or endorsing the strike against national relief camp conditions that we would receive the same treatment as Mr. Bennett's government has accorded the British Columbia government in the matter of farm credit advances."

Mr. Bennett's government is threatened with the loss of the National and Provincial governments to withdraw employment relief support from Vancouver and in view of what has now taken place the federal government has been well advised.

MASS CAMPAIGN SLOGAN, NO JOB FOR ANY ALIEN

Five Million People Through 155 Organizations Press for New Legislation.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—A campaign for legislation to restrict the entry of aliens into the United States as a partial solution to the unemployment problem was presented Sunday by 155 organizations, represented by Representative Dies to approximately 5,000,000 people.

Plans to organize 10,000,000 native born and naturalized citizens for a drive to get congressional action on the Dies deposition bill were reported by the Dies Memorial as he thanked 30,000 letters and telegrams received in support of the measure.

The organization was to be called "The Americans," and would be a non-partisan, non-sectarian and non-political body, he said.

At least 150 congressmen have pledged themselves in favor of the Dies bill, which provides that no alien can be hired by a citizen, that he be held in this country by Mr. Dies declared.

Saying his bill, pending before the house immigration committee, was a "revival bill," Mr. Dies explained that "We could let many French aliens work in this country as France lets American citizens work in France."

WHEEL THEFT REAL TRAGEDY FOR VETERAN

Is Life-Preserving Article For Man With Family To Support

This is the tale of a stolen bicycle and the tragedy that lies behind it. The bicycle, a maroon double-bar machine, with the top removed, was taken from the machine on Friday afternoon. It had been left chained to the rear of a car.

The owner, a returned man of good character, with a wife and child. He had made a first payment on the machine only a few days before he was able to take a job at delivery work and keep himself and family off relief. He is a skilled mechanic and accountant and able-bodied. He served overseas in the flying corps, but at present his only source of income is his bicycle.

The loss of the bicycle is a real tragedy to him, entailing actual distress upon himself and family. Unless he can find other work or unless he can get his bicycle back, he is helpless.

Perhaps the bicycle was not stolen by a heartless thief. It may have been lifted by a man in a spirit of mischief. But whatever was behind the disappearance of the machine, it is information as to where it can be found is wanted in the Bulletin. The owner will be glad to pay the bicycle owner a reward if his livelihood depends back again.

MARKET hunters are operating today in many sections of the country. They kill game birds throughout the year, with no regard for closed seasons, and use weapons designed especially for the business of wholesale slaughter.

WISHAP REVEALS RICH ORE NEAR M'BRIDE B. C.

A new rich gold-bearing area has been found on the rocky side of the Great river, 25 miles west of Mc

The discovery of gold bearing rocks was made by Smith some months ago by a strange accident. He was prospecting along the south Edmonton to the north of the bridge.

While walking along the bank of the Good River, Smith fell by the side of a large rock and fell into the stream, he was carrying a bag of rocks. Hearing the shore after a while, he came back and found the bag full of gold.

Smith is now working in the gold mine, he has been working in the gold mine for some time. He is now working in the gold mine, he has been working in the gold mine for some time. He is now working in the gold mine, he has been working in the gold mine for some time.

Several in-state notes were drilled in the same area in Edmondston last week, but no results were obtained.

The property now consists of 1,000 acres and a majority of the place is under the control of the Edmondston place owner, who has been paying a fee of $20 per acre each month to the company of local men who are drilling in the area. The company has formed here with a few men, as mentioned. As the operation has been placed the day after the drilling, the company has been appropriately named. Dubois & Sons, Ltd.

Ten men are now working on the property, and the company is offering a bonus of $100,000 to the man who will be sent out in the next few weeks.

The company has been drilling on the drag line, however, and the other equipment has been purchased and will be shipped soon.

LOCAL SEVERAL

Mr. Stewart, head of the syndicate, has been drilling in the area.
